Friday 18th September 2020

We have come to the end of another busy week at school. Our newest children have completed another week of induction and will be joining us full time as of next week. The children have all been so happy and settled in school. Here they are all looking cute and smart in their uniform!

Harvest

This year Harvest will look a little different at Bulphan. As we are unable to visit the church for our annual harvest service taking with us food donations, we will instead be collecting toiletry donations for the Thurrock Foodbank.

These donations can be placed in a box that will be left at the main school gate on Wednesday 14th October. Please do not bring in donations in before this date as we are unable to store the items. Thurrock Foodbank have let us know that they would be very grateful for donations of toiletries such as shampoo, shower gel, deodorant, toothbrushes and household cleaning materials.
